

Exhibit A

AT&T attorney Thomas Green and AT&T witness James Camberis testimony under Oath that the phone number 847-768-0000 never had voicemail to cover-up AT&T deletion of over 1 month of unheard voicemail on 847-768-0000 on or about March 1, 2011.

Highlights

Page Exhibit A-0002 - AT&T Nate Camper writes 847-768-0000 has voicemails and reset the password. He was suppose to be a witness however without any notice was withdrawn by AT&T at the hearing Page Exhibit A-0052 to 55 probably because this letter would contradict AT&T sworn testimony that 847-768-0000 never had voicemail.

Page Exhibit A-0003 - AT&T Troy Rudloff writes on Thursday February 24, 2011 he confirms 847-768-0000 mailbox exist and is full. Page Exhibit A-0004 Mr. Camberis states discussed Mr. Chelmowski 847-768-0000 on Friday Feb. 25, 2011 under oath. Also all the case history with his communication and other communications were stripped from AT&T discovery. This was 2 business days before Page Exhibit A-0005 Mr. Camberis writes 847-768-0000 never had voicemail. Is this the reason AT&T stripped all case records required under the discovery order. Mr. Rudloff now an ex-employee was suppose to appear as witness and only rejected after a conversation with AT&T attorney Thomas Green see Page Exhibit A-0052 to 55.

Pages Exhibit A-0005 through A-0010 are multiple statements from AT&T Mr. Camberis and attorney Thomas Green that 847-768-0000 and 847-768-0400 does not have voicemail and ever did.

Pages Exhibit A-0011 bill showing during March and April 2011 porting rejections by AT&T phone bill was current.

Pages Exhibit A-0015 bill showing 847-744-5626 has Voicemail

Pages Exhibit A-0026 bill showing 847-768-0000 has Voicemail

Pages Exhibit A-0028 bill showing 847-768-0400 has Voicemail

Pages Exhibit A-0040-41 bill showing 847-768-0000 has Voicemail

Pages Exhibit A-0044-45 bill showing 847-768-0400 has Voicemail

Every AT&T document shows Mr. Camberis and AT&T attorney Thomas Green statements under oath were FALSE to cover up AT&T deletion of 847-768-0000 voicemails.

Dear Mr. Chelmowski,

Thank you for taking the time to bring your concerns regarding your wireless service to our attention. AT&T would like to take this opportunity to express our most sincere apology for any frustration or inconvenience you may have recently experienced in attempting to resolve your issue.

AT&T has received notification that you have filed a complaint regarding your Fast Forward service and an issue retrieving your voicemails.

In response, the Office of the President has attempted to reach you to discuss the issue; however, we have been unsuccessful in reaching you to provide the details of our resolution. In regards to your voicemail concern, we have set up a temporary password for you to access any remaining voicemails associated with the line ending in 0000. In order to do so, you will need to call me so that I can remove the forward feature and allow you to access the voicemail to listen to any unheard messages. It is very important that we complete this as soon as possible. The feature is designed so that messages expire after 22 days of initial receipt unless they are resaved.

We apologize for any inconvenience this may have caused you. If you would like to discuss this matter please call me at 501-862-2002.

Respectfully,

Nathaniel Camper

Hi Kevin,

Please look into this escalation for me. I just spoke with Mr. Chelmowski, and he was very frustrated because he dialed his 847-768-0000 and heard a message that his voicemail box is full. He requested some time ago (he's not sure how long) that this number be forwarded to his mobile (847-744-5626), he didn't want the x0000 number to have its own mailbox, and he doesn't know how to check these voicemails. Can you please help Mr. Chelmowski with the following:

- Are the 847-768-0000 numbers being forwarded to his mobile – 847-744-5626? I just called the x0000 number and confirmed the "mailbox full" message.
- If not, what happened / is happening?
- Can he remove voicemail from the x0000 number so ALL calls simply go to x5626 and utilize the x5626 voicemail?
- How does he check the x0000 voicemail that is evidently full?
- What do you recommend we do for Mr. Chelmowski to make it right?

Thank you,

Troy Rudloff

1 A. I don't understand the question.

2 Q. If the 5626 number has voicemail on it
3 and he's not getting it, it doesn't matter that 4 it's not the 000 number or the 0400 number, he's 5 still losing business, correct?

6 A. I guess so.

7 Q. Who is Troy Rudloff?

8 A. Troy Rudloff was the director of 9 sales -- I'm trying to remember his exact title.
10 He was the director of sales operations, I
11 believe, for the Illinois Wisconsin market.

12 Q. Is he still employed by the company?

13 A. He is not.

14 Q. Did you ever talk to him about
15 Mr. Chelmowski?

16 A. I believe I did on one occasion, yes.

17 Q. When?

18 A. About the time that the -- somewhere
19 around February 25th, somewhere around there.

20 Q. February 25th. I thought I heard you
21 testify that there was discussion about 22 Mr. Chelmowski's account being suspended for

1 message and also sent him an e-mail on the 1st
2 of March.

3 Q. Let me hand you what I am marking as
4 Exhibit 19. That is a call note from March 1st.

5 MR. DeSTEFANO: We previously marked
6 this as CL 15.

10 my memory, I did speak to him on the 1st of 11 March at approximately 9:58 a.m. My note says
12 that I spoke to Mr. Chelmowski this morning. He 13 started the conversation asking about when I
14 received his information. I advised him that 15 someone from my office contacted him on Friday
16 and he would not let them assist in the call.
17 He denied that that happened. He then demanded
18 the service be fixed and his voicemail
19 retrieved. I advised him that his number
20 ending -- his 0000 number never had voicemail
21 and the voicemail he's referring to resided at 22 the 5626 and it would not be affected.

1 didn't have the device to do it.

2 Q. When a customer is using fast forward,
3 does the customer have a voicemail account on 4 that phone number?

5 A. The way the system looks at it is they
6 are kind of like -- they are a pair. So you
7 have two numbers that are fast forwarded from 8 each other. As part of the fast forward
9 feature, there is voicemail included but the 10 primary number does not have voicemail on it,
11 the secondary number that it is forwarding to 12 would be the one with voicemail on it. If it
13 had voicemail on it, it would confuse the 14 system.

15 Q. In this particular case on the 0000 16 number and the 0400 number, did either of those 17 numbers have a voicemail account?

18 A. The 000 number did not. The 0400
19 number did not. Is that the question?

20 Q. Right.

21 A. They --

22 Q. Both of those were forwarded to the

1 suspend you, Mr. Chelmowski, if you don't pay?

2 A. I do not.

3 Q. Any dunning letters, anything
4 produced?

5 A. I do not.

6 Q. But you sit here today and you say he 7 was suspended for nonpayment. Is that an 8 accurate statement?

9 A. Yes, it is.

10 Q. Now when you say you're suspended for 11 nonpayment addressing the fast forward feature,
12 okay, and/or voicemail, you said it goes to a
13 default?

14 A. Correct.

15 Q. When it goes to a default, what
16 happens to voicemails?

17 A. Specifically with a fast forward
18 device the number was -- the 0000 number was 19 forwarded to the 5626 number. Calls that were 20 going to the 000 number if the fast forward was 21 not set up or the device was not present, it
22 would just ring and go nowhere.

1 had a feature called fast forward. And what
2 fast forward was, it was a product that we sold
3 some time back where you would use a phone, a
4 handset, and you would put it in a cradle. And
5 when it was in that cradle and powered on, if
6 somebody dialed that phone number, it would
7 automatically forward the message to another
8 phone number that you had designated. So, in
9 this particular case, Mr. Chelmowski was using
10 these vanity numbers, the 0400 and -- or the
11 0000 number as feeder numbers to his main phone
12 number, which was ended in 5626. That was his
13 main wireless number. And that was the account
14 that had the voicemail.

15 So, if somebody dialed 0000, it
16 would automatically transfer that incoming call
17 to the 5626 number. It didn't have voicemail of
18 its own, neither did the 0400. They just fed
19 into the other line.

20 Now, what happened on a couple of
21 occasions with Mr. Chelmowski is he failed to
22 pay his bills on time. And because he failed to

1 pay his bills on time, his account became
2 suspended. When his account was suspended, it
3 turned off the fast forward feature. And then 4 when he paid his bill and it became
5 un-suspended, Mr. Chelmowski's fast forward
6 feature would not work because he did not have 7 or could not locate his phone or the cradle that 8 it went into. So, those calls were not going to 9 a voicemail box that he didn't have access to.
10 They weren't going anywhere. He didn't have a
11 voicemail box, and he didn't have his fast
12 forward feature functioning.

13 Now, Mr. Camberis will testify that 14 he assisted Mr. Chelmowski on a couple of 15 occasions to get that feature manually
16 reinstated despite the fact that Mr. Chelmowski
17 had lost his phone and cradle or he had them
18 packed in a box, and he wasn't going to look for 19 them. The most recent occurrence of that 20 occurred in January of 2011 when his account was 21 suspended, fast forward feature was shut off;
22 Mr. Chelmowski -- Mr. Camberis attempted to

1 out of here no later than 5:15. Hopefully it
2 will be before that.

3 Mr. DeStefano, you're calling
4 Mr. Chelmowski. Any other witnesses that you --

5 MR. DESTEFANO: Well, I subpoenaed a
6 Troy Rudloff. And at our hearings on the motion
7 to compel and for sanctions, it was represented
8 that I would get a last known address from 9 respondent's counsel. I did not get a last 10 known address. I did find him by way of social 11 networking and reached his mother. I called him
12 and talked to him personally. I sent him the 13 subpoena. He did not pick up the subpoena.

14 The first subpoena was to be at 15 John Marshall Law School -- excuse me -- was to 16 be at the old AAA site, then it changed to John 17 Marshall Law School, and it was never updated to 18 this site. But he didn't claim either of the 19 two certified mails. So, I'm not expecting him
20 to be here. Also, I thought it was represented
21 that Nate Camper, as well as Jim Camberis would 22 be here on behalf of the respondent, and so I

:37:33AM

:38:08AM

1 was going to call both of those witnesses as
2 adverse witnesses. But I'm prepared to go
3 forward. I just wanted to -- if there was any 4 issue about records and whether or not you would 5 take them into consideration, I was planning on 6 having some of the questions relating to 7 documents to Nate Camper, but I can -- for the 8 sake of getting this resolved today, I can go
9 forward.

:38:46AM

10 ARBITRATOR HAMMOND: Good. Great. So,
11 your only witness will be Mr. Chelmowski?

12 MR. DESTEFANO: Yeah. And I understand
13 the time constraints, so I'll go with 14 Mr. Chelmowski first, and depending on the 15 timing and cross-examination, and then I can 16 call Nate Camper in my case, and/or counsel can 17 call him in his case, and I can cross-examine,
18 whichever way it works the best for everybody
19 here.

:39:12AM

20 ARBITRATOR HAMMOND: But Mr. Camper
21 isn't here.

22 MR. DESTEFANO: I meant Camberis.

1 MR. GREEN: If I can just address the
2 points that you made, during our last conference
3 call, you indicated that you thought Nate Camper
4 didn't have any information relevant to this
5 case. And after I reviewed the records and saw 6 that he had sent a couple of letters to your
7 client, I didn't feel that there was anything
8 that he would add to this that Mr. Camberis
9 can't address.

:39:40AM

10 With regard to Troy Rudloff, you
11 had sent a subpoena to his last known address,
12 the same address that we had, and I spoke with 13 him on the phone after you did, and he indicated
14 that you and he had spoke for approximately ten
15 minutes, and that after that call, you didn't 16 indicate to him that you wanted him to appear
17 and testify.

:40:07AM

18 So, if your position is that he's
19 not here because of the change of address, I
20 disagree with that. And I do understand that 21 you have his phone number because you spoke to 22 him; is that not correct?

1 MR. DESTEFANO: I had his mother's
2 phone number, and then she gave me his phone
3 number, and he's not answering the phone number.
4 And I did not talk to him for ten minutes, okay,
5 saying that I didn't want him to come. I told 6 him that if he saw fit to seek you out and to 7 discuss the case with you, as well, but I wanted
8 him to be here. And I didn't know if you were 9 going to call him then, but I never got anything
10 from you. I did have an address, and I did send 11 it out, and the subpoena was never picked up. I
12 think I've disclosed one of the envelopes. So,
13 I wouldn't be sending it out if I didn't want
14 him here to testify.

15 But, again, similar to Nate Camper,
16 there are documents -- we've produced documents,
17 my client is going to talk about them. If your 18 Honor is considering them, then, you know, him
19 not being here shouldn't inhibit your ability to 20 rule on this case. I did want him here, okay.
21 That's why I sent the subpoena out.

22 ARBITRATOR HAMMOND: Okay. So, you

Subject: AT&T's Answer and Response to Mr. Chelmowski's Restated Demand for Arbitration

AMERICAN ARBITRATION ASSOCIATION

Case No. 51 434 E 00263 13 hepo

James Chelmowski, Claimant

v.

AT&T Mobility LLC, Respondent,

Ms. Celeste Hammond, Esq.,

Attached please find AT&T Mobility LLC ("AT&T")'s Answer and Response to Claimant's Restated Demand for Arbitration:

1. AT&T did not breach its contract in any way with Mr. Chelmowski. His allegations regarding his inability to port the wireless number ending in 0400 and the deactivation of his voicemail account were fully addressed in 2011 and have been explained to Mr. Chelmowski on multiple occasions and in several forums. On January 18, 2010, Mr. Chelmowski attempted to port his wireless number ending in 0400 to XO Communications. That carrier's port request was denied, however, because it failed to provide the correct AT&T account number associated with the number. For security reasons and in accordance with FCC rules, when another carrier requests that a wireless customer's wireless number be ported, that carrier must provide information necessary to validate the current account in order to ensure that the account holder has authorized the transaction. If this information is incomplete or incorrect, the port request must be denied. Otherwise, unscrupulous third parties would be able effectively to steal phone numbers by initiating fraudulent porting requests. See, e.g., T-Mobile USA, Inc. v. York, 1257923 (E.D. Mo. Apr. 4, 2011) (lawsuit against individual who would steal and resell "unique and desirable 'vanity' telephone numbers" by initiating "unauthorized" porting requests). AT&T attempted on a number of occasions to inform Mr. Chelmowski of the status of the port and to instruct him on the appropriate path forward. However, he failed to return AT&T's calls. Accordingly, his failure to have XO Communications successfully port out the wireless number ending in 0400 was not caused by the actions or inactions of AT&T. Eventually, that wireless number was cancelled for non-payment of outstanding charges. In addition, Mr. Chelmowski has complained that AT&T lost his voicemails. AT&T's Office of the President Representative, Jim Camberis, tried to explain to him in March of 2011 that his voice mailbox was working and was full but Mr. Chelmowski hung up on him. AT&T informed him that if he lost his password, the Office of the President was prepared to provide him with a temporary password to enable him to check his voicemails and indicated that in order to be provided with a temporary password, he had to contact Jim Camberis before April 4, 2011. Mr. Chelmowski, however, did not do so. These same complaints were raised with the Illinois Attorney General's Office and the Federal Communications Commission back in 2011, and neither agency found any basis to proceed against AT&T. I attach AT&T's response to the Illinois Attorney General's Office dated April 25, 2011 and its response to the FCC submitted on September 22, 2011.
2. Moreover, the damages that Mr. Chelmowski claims for breach of contract—specifically, attorney's fees and costs, punitive damages, lost wages, lost profits, and reimbursement for medical and psychiatric bills—are not available as a matter of Illinois law. Under Illinois law, neither attorneys' fees and costs nor punitive damages may be recoverable for breach of contract. See, e.g., Geisler v. Everest Nat'l Ins. Co., 980 N.E.2d 1170, 1188 (Ill. App. Ct. 2012) ("Illinois normally follows the 'American rule,'" under which "a successful litigant may not recovery attorney fees in the absence of a statute or a contractual agreement between the parties permitting recover of attorney fees."); Johnson v. George J. Ball, Inc., 617 N.E.2d 1355, 1362 (Ill. Ct. App. 1993) ("Generally, punitive damages are not available in a breach of contract action."). To the extent that Mr. Chelmowski seeks lost wages to reimburse him for his time pursuing this dispute, they are not recoverable because he is effectively seeking attorney's fees for his own time—which as noted above are not available—and because under Illinois law a party cannot obtain attorney's fees for his own time spent pursuing his or her case.

Exhibit B

AT&T Document Summary

Exhibit B-00001 Analysis of AT&T documents regarding the 847-768-0400 porting

Prior to Neustar letter on March 5, 2014, AT&T concealed the AT&T 2011 March and April porting rejections through concealment and deceit.

After Neustar letter on March 5, 2014, AT&T starting a new false statements saying the first rejection in March of 2011 was for an incorrect account number then it was for an Open XO order from January of 2010. AT&T as you can see in the January 16, 2016 FCC answer refuses to provide a document to support AT&T statements instead states Nesutar, XO and OOMA subpoena response as FRAUD with no proof.

Exhibit B-0002 AT&T obstructed Neustar on producing documents Neustar had in its possession for AT&T 2011 March and April porting rejections. XO porting request cancelled in 2010. As in this case would only allow irrelative data to produce in an effort conceal the porting rejections facts and deceive the AAA arbitrator that AT&T cooperated with the subpoena.

Exhibit B-0003 - OOMA subpoena response of the 2011 Porting rejections - AT&T continues to state this Fraud but will not produce a document to support their allegation.

Exhibit B-0004 - XO subpoena response of the 2010 Porting cancelation - AT&T continues to state this Fraud but will not produce a document to support their allegation.

Similar deception was in all correspondence to the FCC in 2011.

B-0005 to 8 shows the deception for AT&T 4/11/11 response. Note this AT&T investigation by AT&T manager of FCC appeals lasted only minutes or hours before she responded back to the FCC. No AT&T case number no AT&T logs for this FCC informal case.

B-0009 to 13 shows the deception for AT&T 9/22/11 response. No AT&T author. B-0013 logs show AT&T Directors involvement and probable authors of this letter. This FCC in contrast to the 4/11/11 had an AT&T case number and over 25 log entries. Why was this missing on 4/11/11 NOIC response.

Note these case files were required by AAA attorney approved discovery. AT&T stripped and concealed them as AT&T attorney client privilege. AT&T also thought 4/11/11 NOIC was also AT&T attorney client privilege and was stripped and concealed from AT&T production. Mr. Chelmowski received that letter from the FCC in 2013.

Both letters AT&T did not send to Mr. Chelmowski in 2011 as require 1.717

B-00018 is AT&T attorney Thomas Green concealment of the March and April 2011 porting rejections in an effort to dismiss the AAA arbitration.

AT&T Concealment Scheme of 2011 Porting Rejections

AT&T conceals to the FCC all porting in 2011 and claims no AT&T porting Rejections and now AT&T admits to the US Federal District Court 4 porting rejections occurred in 2011

AT&T exposes intentional concealment scheme of porting rejections on 5/29/14 however still no documents							AT&T 2011 to 5/29/14 Intentional Concealment ALL Porting Request & AT&T Rejections

To Date AT&T has NOT produced a single porting document requested in 11/18/13 attorney approved discovery. This to aide the concealment scheme.

FACTS on AT&T Intentional Concealment Scheme

2011 Porting Rejections after concealment on 4/11/11, 9/22/11, 4/24/13, 10/18/13, 1/14/14 and 3/18/14 - ALL IN WRITING by AT&T
Then on May 29, 2014, June 27, 2014 and September 25, 2014 now admit there was porting rejections by AT&T

* AT&T owns the actual porting data, AT&T must approve any data released by Neustar see Neustar 3/18/14 letter.

AT&T refused to let Neustar release any information for the time frame in question only the on porting on 7/18/11. To add confusion in the Arbitration Hearing

AT&T did not need XO Communications to cancel the 2010 porting request when AT&T Mobility porting the number to AT&T on 7/18/11
What happened to the AT&T alleged Open Order from 2010? AT&T has the documents but will not produce these documents

Re: Discovery Subpoena Duces Tecum, James Chelmowski v. AT&T, American Arbitration Association Case #51 434 263 13

Dear Mr. DeStefano,

Neustar is in receipt of the above-referenced subpoena concerning the porting activity of several telephone numbers. As the administrator of the regional United States Number Portability Administration Centers (NPACs), Neustar confirmed that it is in possession of carrier data responsive to the subpoena. As the administrator of the NPACs, Neustar is required to maintain the confidentiality of carrier data contained in the NPACs, such that it may not disclose such data to a third party without first obtaining the carrier's written consent to do so. Neustar has received authority from AT&T to disclose the following data about the telephone number there indicated:

- 847-768-0400
 - July 18, 2011 – ported from Cingular Wireless (AT&T) to the code-assignee Ameritech (AT&T)

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me at Sherry.Risley@neustar.biz or (571) 434-5599.

Sincerely yours,

Dear James,

We have recently received a rejection on your porting request for a work order on the account.

If you no longer have a work order on your account, you will need to get a confirmation number that the work order was removed from your account. If there is still a work order on your account, you will need to have it removed. You will then need to email us the confirmation number, so that we can provide it to our local exchange carrier and they can prove to your carrier that the numbers are no longer on the account.

Please keep in mind, if you have DSL on the same number that you requested to port, you will lose your internet connection when your number is ported. Ooma will not work without a broadband connection, so this is a friendly reminder to ensure you do not experience any down time.

Please remember not to cancel your phone service with your previous provider associated with this phone number until we send you confirmation that your porting process has been completed.

Please be aware that you may experience downtime the day the port is being completed.

If you have further questions or require additional clarification, please write me back and I will respond to you as quickly as possible, usually the same day. Your satisfaction is important to us, and I will make sure we bring this to resolution consistent with your expectations. If it's more convenient, you can also visit our support website <http://www.ooma.com/support> and check out our wide variety of helpful articles that may answer any additional questions that might come up in the future.

Thank you for choosing Ooma!

Sincerely,

Response to March 23, 2011 Claimant Complaint to the Illinois Attorney General to IAG mediate

Author: UNKNOWN

Title : AT&T Office of the President

AT&T written or Implied Expertise in the subject:

AT&T Presidents is quote FCC rules, regulations, etc. Then told FCC it not is jurisdiction of the Commission (because the 6 months have now passed and by FCC must now deem the case is closed and abandoned.

Important Date & events in letter:

- 8/24/11 - FCC Mailed to AT&T
- 8/31/11 - Service Date FCC complaint
- 9/23/11 - AT&T sent NOIC response to FCC
- 4/9/11 - acknowledged receipt of IAG request of help from complaint for AT&T blocking the porting of phone number
- 1/18/10 - Claimant requested to port the number 847-768-0400
- in 2010 - AT&T rejected this porting request because the account number was incorrect
- 4/19/11 - claimant requested to port 847-768-0400
- AT&T denied the 4/19/11 porting order for "Opening Pending Order" - the 2010 order which AT&T rejected was still opened
- AT&T is unable to communicate to XO by FCC law
- Only the claimant must cancel this order from 2010 in 2011 so AT&T could port this number

Contradictions from other written correspondence

- Claimant does not return AT&T phone calls & not communicating with AT&T- see AY$T 4/23/13 letter to claimant
- FCC 10-85 requires the old phone carrier to port all active phone number with accurate and complete porting information & nowhere does not require the person porting the phone to verbally communicate with old carrier.
- No porting request was originated on 1/18/10 that request was originated on 12/10/09
- This request was rejected for "Incorrect Information" in 12/10/09 & 1/18/10
- This request was canceled and confirmed on 3/3/10 - this date and action was reconfirmed by many sources in 2011 including NPAC records from 2010, XO, OOMA, etc.
- AT&T communicated with XO in 2011 and told XO the 2009-2010 order was NOT canceled and that is why AT&T rejected the 2011 porting orders
- 4/19/11 was not the date AT&T received the porting order date it was 3/21/11. Why would claimant write ask for help on 4/9/11 for a porting order in the future at 4/19/11?

AT&T Mobility ("AT&T") is in receipt of the above-referenced customer's complaint and appreciates the opportunity to respond. Specifically, James Chelmowski claims that AT&T is blocking the porting of his wireless number ending in 0400. Mr. Chelmowski also alleges that AT&T destroyed him, harassed him and his family and put him in the hospital. AT&T denies all of these allegations.

Please be advised that AT&T has made numerous attempts previously to speak with and assist Mr. Chelmowski with regards to his complaint. To date, Mr. Chelmowski has not returned any of our calls.

AT&T conducted a thorough review of Mr. Chelmowski's account. AT&T determined that, on January 18, 2010, Mr. Chelmowski attempted to port his wireless number ending in 0400 to XO Communications. The port request was denied because the account number provided in the request was incorrect. For security reasons and in accordance with FCC rules, when a customer ports their number to another wireless provider, information necessary to validate the current account must be submitted by the new provider. If this information is not correct, the port request is denied. AT&T attempted on a number of occasions to inform Mr. Chelmowski of the status of the port and to instruct him on the appropriate path forward.

Mr. Chelmowski's account was ultimately deactivated due to non-payment. Mr. Chelmowski had a past due balance on his account. Pursuant to normal collection procedures, his account was cancelled on May 15, 2011. AT&T believes the past due balance of $345.88 reflects valid and appropriate charges for services rendered to Mr. Chelmowski. AT&T attempted to work with Mr. Chelmowski in regard to the charges and believes he understood the amount that was past due. The account was sent to an outside collection agency on June 18, 2011. Because Mr. Chelmowski's account is currently inactive and service is no longer being provided to that number, the number is not eligible to be ported. AT&T is more than happy to work with the Commission and Mr. Chelmowski to re-activate his account so that he may port his 0400 number to another provider.

With regards to Mr. Chelmowski's allegations regarding treatment he received by AT&T, we deny these claims and note that they are not within the subject matter jurisdiction of the Commission. If Mr. Chelmowski would like to discuss his complaint further or discuss re-activating his account for purposes of porting to another provider, he may contact Nate Camper at 1-501-862-2002. In the alternative, we are happy to work with the Commission to assist Mr. Chelmowski in his efforts to port the 0400 number to another carrier. We trust this letter addresses your concerns regarding this complaint.

Sincerely,
AT&T Office of the President

CC: James Chelmowski

Subject: AT&T's Answer and Response to Mr. Chelmowski's Restated Demand for Arbitration

AMERICAN ARBITRATION ASSOCIATION

Case No. 51 434 E 00263 13 hepo

James Chelmowski, Claimant

v.

AT&T Mobility LLC, Respondent,

Ms. Celeste Hammond, Esq.,

Attached please find AT&T Mobility LLC ("AT&T")'s Answer and Response to Claimant's Restated Demand for Arbitration:

1. AT&T did not breach its contract in any way with Mr. Chelmowski. His allegations regarding his inability to port the wireless number ending in 0400 and the deactivation of his voicemail account were fully addressed in 2011 and have been explained to Mr. Chelmowski on multiple occasions and in several forums. On January 18, 2010, Mr. Chelmowski attempted to port his wireless number ending in 0400 to XO Communications. That carrier's port request was denied, however, because it failed to provide the correct AT&T account number associated with the number. For security reasons and in accordance with FCC rules, when another carrier requests that a wireless customer's wireless number be ported, that carrier must provide information necessary to validate the current account in order to ensure that the account holder has authorized the transaction. If this information is incomplete or incorrect, the port request must be denied. Otherwise, unscrupulous third parties would be able effectively to steal phone numbers by initiating fraudulent porting requests. See, e.g., T-Mobile USA, Inc. v. York, 1257923 (E.D. Mo. Apr. 4, 2011) (lawsuit against individual who would steal and resell "unique and desirable 'vanity' telephone numbers" by initiating "unauthorized" porting requests). AT&T attempted on a number of occasions to inform Mr. Chelmowski of the status of the port and to instruct him on the appropriate path forward. However, he failed to return AT&T's calls. Accordingly, his failure to have XO Communications successfully port out the wireless number ending in 0400 was not caused by the actions or inactions of AT&T. Eventually, that wireless number was cancelled for non-payment of outstanding charges. In addition, Mr. Chelmowski has complained that AT&T lost his voicemails. AT&T's Office of the President Representative, Jim Camberis, tried to explain to him in March of 2011 that his voice mailbox was working and was full but Mr. Chelmowski hung up on him. AT&T informed him that if he lost his password, the Office of the President was prepared to provide him with a temporary password to enable him to check his voicemails and indicated that in order to be provided with a temporary password, he had to contact Jim Camberis before April 4, 2011. Mr. Chelmowski, however, did not do so. These same complaints were raised with the Illinois Attorney General's Office and the Federal Communications Commission back in 2011, and neither agency found any basis to proceed against AT&T. I attach AT&T's response to the Illinois Attorney General's Office dated April 25, 2011 and its response to the FCC submitted on September 22, 2011.
2. Moreover, the damages that Mr. Chelmowski claims for breach of contract—specifically, attorney's fees and costs, punitive damages, lost wages, lost profits, and reimbursement for medical and psychiatric bills—are not available as a matter of Illinois law. Under Illinois law, neither attorneys' fees and costs nor punitive damages may be recoverable for breach of contract. See, e.g., Geisler v. Everest Nat'l Ins. Co., 980 N.E.2d 1170, 1188 (Ill. App. Ct. 2012) ("Illinois normally follows the 'American rule,'" under which "a successful litigant may not recovery attorney fees in the absence of a statute or a contractual agreement between the parties permitting recover of attorney fees."); Johnson v. George J. Ball, Inc., 617 N.E.2d 1355, 1362 (Ill. Ct. App. 1993) ("Generally, punitive damages are not available in a breach of contract action."). To the extent that Mr. Chelmowski seeks lost wages to reimburse him for his time pursuing this dispute, they are not recoverable because he is effectively seeking attorney's fees for his own time—which as noted above are not available—and because under Illinois law a party cannot obtain attorney's fees for his own time spent pursuing his or her case.

See, e.g., Brazas v. Ramsey, 682 N.E.2d 476, 479-80 (Ill. App. Ct. 1992) (rejecting request by “pro se plaintiff” for attorney’s fees). And to the extent that Mr. Chelmowski seeks lost wages on any other theory, that type of damage—like his other categories of consequential damages (i.e., lost profits and medical and psychiatric bills)—was not a reasonably foreseeable consequence of the alleged breach of contract and thus is not recoverable as a matter of law. See, e.g., F.E. Holmes & Son Constr. Co. v. Gualdoni Elec. Serv., Inc., 435 N.E.2d 724, 728 (Ill. App. Ct. 1982). In addition, even if those consequential damages were foreseeable, the parties’ contract bars recovery: “Unless prohibited by law, AT&T isn’t liable for any indirect, special, punitive, incidental or consequential losses or damages you or any third party may suffer by use of, or inability to use, Services, Software, or Devices provided by or through AT&T, including loss of business or goodwill, revenue or profits, or claims of personal injuries.”

3. Mr. Chelmowski’s other claims—for conversion, fraud, intentional infliction of emotional distress, and for violation of the FCC’s porting rules—are all derivative of his breach of contract claim and fail with it. Those claims also fail for additional reasons. For example, Mr. Chelmowski’s conversion claim fails because he cannot prove that AT&T “wrongfully and without authorization” deprived him of “property” as to which he had an “absolute and unconditional right of possession.” Weisberger v. Weisberger, 954 N.E.2d 282, 289 (Ill. App. Ct. 2011). As the Seventh Circuit has explained, “no one—not [the] Customer” nor “even the phone company—has a property right in a phone number.” Soppet v. Enhanced Recover Co., 679 F.3d 637, 639-40 (7th Cir. 2012) (citing John v. 1-800-FLOWERS.com, Inc., 284 F.3d 807 (7th Cir. 2002)); see also, e.g., Eagle v. Morgan, 2011 WL 6739448, at *12 n.5 (E.D. Pa. Dec. 22, 2011) (noting concession that claim under Pennsylvania law for conversion of a cell phone number is meritless). Mr. Chelmowski’s fraud claim fails because he cannot prove, as he must, that he relied to his detriment on any alleged misstatement by AT&T. See, e.g., Siegel Dev., LLC v. Peak Constr. LLC, 993 N.E.2d 1041, 1059 (Ill. App. Ct. 2013). His claim for intentional infliction of emotional distress fails to meet his burden to demonstrate that AT&T’s conduct was “so outrageous in character, and so extreme in degree, as to go beyond all possible bounds of decency.” Ulm v. Mem. Med. Ctr., 964 N.E.2d 632, 642 (Ill. App. Ct. 2012) (internal quotation marks omitted). And his claim for an alleged violation of the FCC’s porting rules fails because there is no private right of action for violation of that regulation, 47 C.F.R. § 52.31. See also Conboy v. AT&T Corp., 241 F.3d 242, 252-53 (2d Cir. 2001) (“[Because] the FCC is primarily responsible for the interpretation and implementation of the Telecommunications Act and FCC Regulations,” where there is not explicit language providing for a private right of action or a comparable indication of congressional intent, “no private right of action for money damages can be implied.”).
4. Moreover, AT&T did not breach its contract by failing to pay Mr. Chelmowski’s AAA filing fee. Section 2.2(3) of Mr. Chelmowski’s Wireless Customer Agreement with AT&T provides that “. . . if you initiate an arbitration in which you seek more than $75,000 in damages, the payment of these fees will be governed by the AAA rules.” Since Mr. Chelmowski has been and continues to seek in excess of $75,000 he has been and remains responsible for paying his filing fee. Further, there is no contractual obligation to provide arbitration “forms and information” to Mr. Chelmowski. As recognized by the United States Supreme Court in AT&T Mobility LLC v. Concepcion, 131 S. Ct. 1740 (2011), AT&T’s arbitration forms are simple to use and are easily locatable on AT&T’s web site. Accordingly, AT&T denies that it breached its contract in dealing with Mr. Chelmowski through this arbitration proceeding.

AT&T’s Counterclaims:

5. Mr. Chelmowski has an unpaid balance of $345.88 which is due and owing to AT&T for services rendered.
6. Mr. Chelmowski failed to abide by the requirements set forth in the dispute resolution provision of his Wireless Customer Agreement. Namely, Mr. Chelmowski commenced an arbitration without first filing a Notice of Dispute in accordance with Section 2.2(2) of his Wireless Customer Agreement with AT&T. Because he failed to abide by the terms of his contract with AT&T, he deprived AT&T of the opportunity to resolve his dispute prior to incurring the costs of this arbitration. Further, because of this failure, he would not be entitled to the alternative payment and attorney's fee premium described in Section 2.2(4) of the agreement even if he were to prevail in this arbitration.

7. Indeed, even though Mr. Chelmowski has had various disputes with AT&T in the past, the true nature of Mr. Chelmowski's current dispute (i.e., the subject of this arbitration) was not disclosed to AT&T until Mr. DeStefano's e-mail dated September 27, 2013 (seven months after filing). In the meantime, AT&T has been required to pay the AAA $1,350.00 in fees for this arbitration.
8. Mr. Chelmowski has repeatedly harassed officers and executives of AT&T by sending unsolicited e-mails purporting to come from his son claiming that Mr. Chelmowski had died or was dying (i.e., "We are sorry to report the passing . . .," ""HELP we don't want my dad to die (Jim Chelmowski) from his son," etc. I would note that Mr. Chelmowski is alleging that there are over 3,000 internal AT&T e-mails regarding him (a number we believe to be an extreme exaggeration), however, it is true that he engaged in an e-mail harassment campaign back in 2011 whereby he undertook to barrage AT&T executives and board members, including the General Counsel of AT&T, with e-mails. An example of some of these e-mails is attached. Additionally, in a bizarre incident, Mr. Chelmowski also sent an envelope containing an unmarked, green sheet of paper to Mr. Jim Camberis this past May. A photograph of that envelope is also attached.
9. Accordingly, AT&T respectfully requests a finding that Mr. Chelmowski's claims are frivolous and/or have been brought for improper purposes as measured by the standards set forth in Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 11(b).

Respectfully submitted,

Thomas J. Green
AT&T Mobility LLC

1 had a feature called fast forward. And what
2 fast forward was, it was a product that we sold
3 some time back where you would use a phone, a
4 handset, and you would put it in a cradle. And
5 when it was in that cradle and powered on, if
6 somebody dialed that phone number, it would
7 automatically forward the message to another
8 phone number that you had designated. So, in
9 this particular case, Mr. Chelmowski was using
10 these vanity numbers, the 0400 and -- or the
11 0000 number as feeder numbers to his main phone
12 number, which was ended in 5626. That was his
13 main wireless number. And that was the account
14 that had the voicemail.

15 So, if somebody dialed 0000, it
16 would automatically transfer that incoming call
17 to the 5626 number. It didn't have voicemail of
18 its own, neither did the 0400. They just fed
19 into the other line.

20 Now, what happened on a couple of
21 occasions with Mr. Chelmowski is he failed to 22 pay his bills on time. And because he failed to
